

To ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its accredited educational activities, CSEM adheres to the National Standard of Support for Accredited CPD Activities. Conflict of interest disclosures allow participants to make informed decisions regarding any potential bias in the information presented.

Definitions

A conflict of interest is a set of conditions in which judgement or decisions concerning a primary interest (e.g.: a patients' welfare, the validity of research and/or quality of medical education) is unduly influenced by a secondary interest (personal or organizational benefit including financial gain, academic or career advancement, or other benefits to family, friends, or colleagues). Conflicts of interest may be real (two or more interests are indisputably in conflict) or perceived (the appearance of conflict as judged by outside observers regardless of whether conflict actually exists).

Disclosure Policies

- Disclosures must be made to the audience whether or not you have a relationship to disclose.
- Speakers must disclose conflicts verbally and in writing on a slide at the beginning of a presentation.
- Disclosures for committee members, moderators, authors, etc. will be publicly available and included in event materials (e.g. presentations, event website, event program, etc.).
- Any individual who fails to disclose their relationships cannot participate as a planning committee member, speaker, moderator, facilitator or author of an accredited CPD activity.
- You must ensure that the content and/or materials presented (where applicable) provide a balanced view across all relevant options related to the content area.
- The description of therapeutic options must utilize generic names and not reflect exclusivity and branding.
- All therapeutic recommendations for medications that have not received regulatory approval (i.e.: off-label use) must be declared to the audience during your presentation.
- CSEM will review disclosures and may suggest actions to mitigate any conflicts of interests.
- If a conflict of interest is determined to be impossible to mitigate, your participation in the program may be terminated.

You must disclose all relationships with for-profit and not-for-profit organizations over the previous 2 years regardless of their relevance to the subject matter being discussed or presented, including (but not necessarily limited to):

- Any direct financial payments including receipt of honoraria;
- Membership on advisory boards or speakers' bureaus;
- Funded grants or clinical trials;
- Patents on a drug, product or device;
- Holding a position in the organization;
- Playing some other role of benefit to the organization;
- All other investments or relationships that could be seen by a reasonable, well-informed participant as having the potential to influence the content of the educational activity.
